Preview	Filename	Size	Progress
<input type="checkbox"/>	DB.xlsx md5:3bfbb529e5facfd749bd97d169693c5	8.04 KB	100%

On the right side, there are buttons for 'Save draft' and 'Publish', both circled in red. Below these is a 'Visibility' section.

A modal dialog box is overlaid on the screen with the title 'Are you sure you want to publish this record?'. It contains a warning message: 'Once the record is published you will no longer be able to change the files in the upload! However, you will still be able to update the record's metadata later.' At the bottom of the dialog, there are 'Cancel' and 'Publish' buttons, with the 'Publish' button circled in red.
