Network Meeting

Naples 2020

18 SEPTEMBER 2020

RATIONALE

The first AMORe Network Meeting –Naples 2020 will represent the inaugurating event of our global Oncology Network, whose goal is to identify internationally common as well as nationally/regionally specific strategies to fight against cancer with preventive policies, early diagnostic approaches and the most advanced medical/surgical tools.

For a world without cancer (or for a relevant burden reduction) scientific, social and financial components must be taken into account in order to reduce socioeconomic disparities and financial toxicity, while providing opportunities and enhanced system efficiencies for patients with cancer.

The main critical issues to be considered and addressed are:

- 1) standardization of the clinical procedures with the establishment of an international ethics committee;
- 2) elaboration of common SOP for biological biobank repository and appropriate international agreements for transfer of the biological samples among the institutions of the AMORe Network to activate collaborative biomolecular studies and cancer molecular classification;
- 3) activation of multilateral/ bilateral training exchange programs and short-terms fellowships for students and teachers in molecular as well as in medical and surgical clinical oncology.
